I've studied Human Physiology with specialization in Neurophysiology. I always wanted to know the wonderful pathways and mechanisms that run inside our body and make us live our life, how our mind works etc., I'm so happy to know some of them and still learning. When we connect our studies with our real life phenomenons, a different feeling arises, and that's the beauty of studying Physiology.	None till now.	There are numerous memories in college with professors, that made my college life so precious. But the most memorable one is the educational tour in North Bengal.		Now I'm working as a freelance Filmmaker and Musician, also I want to persue higher studies.	Never stop learning, don't run for grades. If we're really passionate about what we're doing, success will automatically arrive.	5	The Department of Physiology of Surendranath College have one of the best faculties on this subject, professors taught us almost like friends and looked after each student personally in theories as well as in practical sessions.
